TABLE OF CONTENTS

Dedication

To our class advisor who endeavored to guide us without dominating us, never letting us down when we needed her, making us stop to think before we jump, and somehow making us believe in ourselves.

*Best Wishes
Grace Byrne*

In appreciation for her helpfulness, and friendly interest, the staff affectionately dedicates to Mrs.
Hayes this 1956 edition of the Seniors

Senior Class Prayer

Our Father, we could never really thank you for all the wonderful experiences we have shared during our four years in high school.

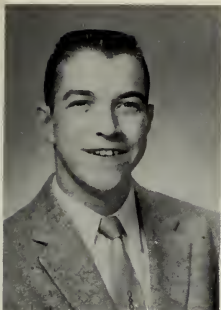

Sometimes we have run across what seemed like unsurmountable crises, but always there has been someone to help us—a fellow student or a teacher.

During our senior year in our new high school, we have shared friendships, likes, dislikes, dances, parties, sports, and innumerable other things for which we are thankful.

Now as we face an unknown future, O God, may we take with us the knowledge acquired from our high school experiences. May we help others as we have been helped. Help us to be thankful for our blessings, and have strength and courage when we have problems to face; the knowledge that with faith in God we can do all things.

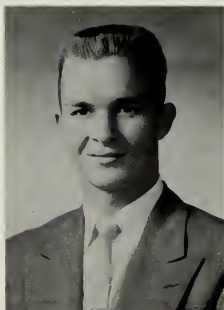

In the name of our Lord, Amen.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

Billerica Warriors

The Billerica Warriors coached by Charles Lampson, George Gracie, and John O'Brien started the "55" campaign with a T offensive lineup.

Playing host to Walpole, after the opener with Milford was cancelled because of polio, the Warriors lost a heartbreaker, 7 to 0 in the final 40 seconds of play.

The Warriors then journeyed to Ipswich where they lost 7 to 6 in a defensive battle between the aggressive lines.

In the next encounter, Billerica invaded Somerset only to be on the short end of a 13 to 0 score, being outwitted, but not out played.

The players' spirit never lacking after three defeats in succession, Coach Lampson put a new offense: the single wing.

The next game, a home game with Tewksbury, the Warriors won 19 to 6, proving that the single wing improved the offense.

The Lampson charges then went to Malden Vocational where they won 14 to 0, over a weak Vocational team.

A strong St. Mary's of Waltham team then invaded Billerica only to be defeated by the Warriors 25 to 13, after 3 periods of seesaw battle.

In their final tilt, the annual Thanksgiving clash with Chelmsford, the Warriors proved themselves by upsetting Chelmsford 19 to 12.

Coach Lampson believes that the team of "55" was one of the best teams he has coached while at Billerica, even though the season's record doesn't show it. After including the single wing, the Warriors had five straight wins, including a non-classified 20 to 18 win over Philips Academy at North Andover. We believe the football teams of the future will continue to excel even though they will not have the services of such stars as Captain George (Nick) Nickerson, "Bob" Nutting, "Don" Myles, "Lou" Mucci, "Bob" Ekberg, "Bob" Steele, "Art" Roach, "Bill" McNulty, "Bob" Smith and "Dick" Garrant.

The Big Win

We lost to Chelmsford 2 in a row
To lose again the cup would go
On Turkey day of "55"
Our boys kept Chuck's fond hopes alive
To win the trophy was our aim
And sure enough we won the game.
To keep the cup let's win twice more,
As 'Chuck-coached' teams have done before.

B.M.H.S. Cheerleaders

The new Billerica Memorial High School is fortunate in having such a fine group of girls for its first cheerleading squad.

We are really proud of our girls this year. They placed second in the Walpole Cheerleading Tournament against very stiff competition.

The first dance in our new school was given by the cheerleaders with Dave Maynard as the disc jockey. The dance was a huge success, with the girls giving a fine exhibition of their new cheers for the year.

The Cheerleaders' uniforms were dark green princess style trimmed with white. Cute white beanies and white boots completed the outfits.

The annual football rally was held in the new auditorium, and the cheerleaders stirred up more school spirit than we've seen in a long while.

Our head cheerleader, Anne O'Brien, was ably supported by: Molly Gleason, Ellen O'Neill, Pat Turner, Pat Treworgy, Judi McNulty, Janice Lucia, Barbara Guptill, Carole Waitkus, Joyce Lee, Barbara McGurn, Jean Porter, Ruth Desrosiers, and Joanne Albertini as manager.

The Girls' Basketball team this year did not enjoy a successful winning streak but compensated for this fact by showing good sportsmanship and excellent team spirit.

The most exciting game of the season was at Tewksbury where our girls beat the "champs" by one point. This was the first defeat of the year for Tewksbury.

The team was ably coached by Miss Barbara Hood who, as always, did a fine job.

The girls this year were very fortunate in having a brand new gymnasium in which to practice and play their games.

The Day The Orphanage Was Rich

By Michael Pickowicz
Stone Valley, Wisconsin, a small town about 30 miles West of Madison, has a population of 1,682 according to the last Census. It is mostly an agricultural town, but has one factory which manufactures farm machinery. This factory supplies the farmers with machinery and raised a rooms and the shops have been outfitted in the latest style.

In the auditorium we have lovely plush seats which are much more comfortable than the old wooden ones.

All in all the atmosphere of this new school is 100 percent better than that of the old. The students have something to be proud of.

In this building we have a new superintendent by the name of Philip G. Hines, who came from Wells, Maine.

The new teachers are: Mr. Sales, Mr. Paine, Mr. Sangermano, Mr. Clancy, Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Ginsburg, Mrs. Splaine, Mrs. Zinman, Miss Nanis, Mrs. Cassin, Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Messer, and Mr. Gracie. We also have a matron, Mrs. Plumley.

It had no specific name, but was just known as 'The Hall', and had always been used for meetings of this type. 'Here they are,' again replied the Secretary. 'In 1953 we made $307 and there were 189 people present; in 1952 we made $362 and....' Suddenly Jim interrupted, 'That's enough.'

John Martin, a friend of the Larsons, stood up and said, 'Just what are you trying to point out?' Jim replied, 'I'm just trying to show you that there is a steady decrease in the number of people who attend every year. I personally think that we need a new play with different actors, because

Senior Class Will

I, Audrey Adams, leave because "Bud" is waiting.

I, Joanne Albertini, leave to run for "Myles."

I, Ronald Barber, leave my books to some poor student who will follow me.

I, Dorothy Baroni, leave school to all the little Baronis.

I, Elaine Barrington, leave "to Grant" that it can be done.

I, Marilyn Blunt, leave my daily run to catch the bus to my sister, Donna.

I, Jacqueline Bonczar, leave my four years of gym to my sister, Helen.

I, Dorothy Buonamano, leave in hopes that a certain someone will follow in the "Nick" of time.

I, Ellen Burke, leave my wonderful Senior Year to my sister, Cathy.

I, Robert Cahill, leave my seat in homeroom to my sister, Theresa.

I, Marjorie Callahan, leave the clinic to my sister, Joyce.

I, Nancy Carmichael, leave my size "ten" sneakers to Barbara Rounds.

I, Nancy Champagne, leave my four years of English to my brother, Billy.

I, Cynthia Cooper, leave Barb Dunstan my chemistry experiments with the hope that she can do better than I.

I, Nora Condon, leave my old gym suit to Miss Hood, to sell next year for a quarter.

I, Elaine Cormier, leave Mr. Archambault's chemistry tests to some unfortunate Junior.

I, Alice Delarue, leave my gym suit to Miss Hood.

I, William Denman, leave my cigarettes to Red Spaulding and Dick Gardener.

I, Gerald Dillman, leave my pencils, books and teachers to my brother.

I, Tony Doherty, leave my gym trunks to my brother.

I, Marie Dubois, leave to my sister, Claire, my seat in chemistry and my fun in lab.

I, Lavinia Duca, leave my seat in U. S. History to my brother, Billy.

I, Larry Dutile, leave my wonderful memories of chemistry to Barb Redden.

I, Mary Egan, leave my bunsen burner to my sister, Barbara, because that is the only thing I haven't broken.

I, Bob Ekberg, leave my ability to drop passes to the Chelmsford ends so B.M.H.S. may beat them next year.

I, Nancy Fall, leave all the homework I didn't do to my sister, Janet.

I, Rose Fitzgerald, leave all my demerits to Rita and Polly.

I, Robert Fox, leave my basketball playing to any future player.

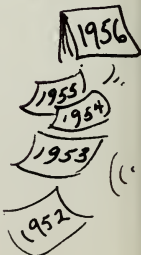

I, Noreen Galvin, leave Miss Hood a new group of program sellers at the football games.

I, Richard Garrant, leave my sister to Mr. Archambault.

I, Mike Gaspar, leave my footsteps behind.

I, Jack Geas, leave all my headaches to some unsuspecting senior.

I, Bob Gill, leave Billerica Memorial High School after four terrific years.

¿NO ES VERDAD?
¿Que día es?

"a" bomb

I, Maureen Gleason, leave my four happy years in high school to my sister, Pat.

I, Edna Graham, leave my first period showers on Thursdays and Fridays to Sylvia Lefebvre.

I, Joyce Gullage, leave my clippy shower slippers and supply of excuses for not taking gym to "Bunky" Doyle.

I, Barbara Guptill, leave my crazy shower shoes to my sister, Carol.

I, Eva Hamelin, leave to jump in my "hot" Chev.

I, Honey Hamilton, leave to help push Eva's "Chevie."

I, Ann Hentz, leave my bench in the chemistry lab to some girl who has courage enough to take it.

I, Carol Hodgdon, leave my shorthand notes to Mrs. Messer.

I, Ralph Josselyn, leave room G 43 and its noise to Mrs. Splaine.

I, Shirley Kelley, leave my book of absence excuses to the student body, and my shorthand speed to Trudy Reidt.

I, Regina Kennedy, leave Beverly Waters to take her shower alone.

I, Fred Kenyon, leave "Don Quixote" to anybody who wants him.

I, Janet Kenyon, leave Sandra Ferraro my excuses from gym and those "nasty" showers.

I, Bertha Lockhart, leave my unused gym sneakers to Betty Leatham.

I, Janice Lucia, leave my baby teeth to "Eky."

I, Phyllis Luciano, leave Bob Ekberg my C. kisses.

I, Arthur Major, leave my dishwashing ability to my friend, Donald Dempsey.

I, Veronica Manning, leave my ability to get along with Miss Collins to her future secretary.

I, George Markarian, leave my basketball playing to the same player Bob Fox left his to.

I, Lois McCarthy, leave my English vocabulary notebook to my sister, Joyce, with the hope she will use it.

I, Judith McNulty, leave with a little push from Mrs. Messer.

I, Billy McNulty, leave my ability to keep out of fights to my five brothers, Tony, Brien, Peter, John, and Pat.

I, Catherine Monagle, leave my aptitude for cabinet-making to my brother, Phillip.

I, Nancy Moore, leave my typing eraser to Betty Ann LeLacheur.

I, Louis Mucci, leave my football practice jersey to Roger Lydon.

I, Donald Myles, leave one last pat on the back for "Chuck" Lampion and his "148 Myles."

I, Charles Nugent, leave an atomic bomb hidden in the chemistry lab.

I, Bob Nutting, leave my old dirty football practice jersey to Roger Lydon.

I, Anne O'Brien, leave my position as head cheerleader to Carol Waitkus in hopes that she has as much fun as I did.

I, Betty O'Hara, leave my shorthand notes to Cathie Bonczar.

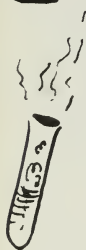

I, Marilyn Pasquale, leave in hopes Mrs. Messer will have a quieter home room.

I, Marjorie Piacenza, leave to my brother, Frank, all of my demerits.

I, Jean Pica, leave Miss Byrne's bookkeeping to my sister, Anne.

Emo

I, Janet Pickering, leave Betty Ann LeLacheur my mirror that she so faithfully borrows.

I, Paul Rebinskas, leave to Bob Caudet, although I tried not to, the lab in one piece.

I, Diane Reddington, leave my "lunches" and "dances" in the cafeteria to Bev Waters.

I, Nancy Schmitz, leave Janice Cann my success in chemistry with the hope that she won't blow up the lab.

I, Anne Shack, leave my dirty gym towel to Carol Brien.

I, John Silva, leave my friendship with Chuck Lampson to Thomas Belluchi.

I, Robert Smith, leave my brother, Harry, my luck in passing subjects.

I, Robert Staples, leave my good Studebaker to the boys in the lunchroom who beat me at blackjacks.

I, Diane Statham, leave to get married.

I, Robert Steele, leave my seat in Mr. Paine's class to my brother, George.

I, Roy Steeves, leave the chemistry lab in one piece.

I, Patricia Sullivan, leave a two year supply of aspirin to Chuck, in hopes that he won't need it.

I, Ruthie Sullivan, leave my hot temper to Loretta Caterino.

I, Pat Swanholm, leave "Macbeth" to Mrs. McLaughlin.

I, Frances Tavares, leave my chemistry book to my sister, in hopes that she will enjoy it.

I, Charles Taylor, leave Senior English to Mrs. McLaughlin.

I, Dorothy Tholander, leave my brains to my sister, Marion.

I, Earl Thompson, leave my seat in Mr. Paine's class to Pete.

I, Patricia Treworgy, leave in my favorite color, "Red."

I, Patricia Turner, leave to "Butter" my bread.

I, Bette Vose, leave the cafeteria lunches to my sister, Andrea.

I, Marcia Wakefield, leave my large basketball uniform to Susan Corkum.

I, Sonja Wallin, leave all my typing errors to Mrs. Messer.

I, Clem Wasson, leave my demerits to Bobby Johansen.

I, David Wastchak, leave my four enjoyable years in high school to my nephew.

I, Sally Wetherbee, leave my trash in the cafeteria to Mrs. McGee.

I, Barbara Whelan, leave with a pushing hand from every teacher.

I, Paul Wilson, leave my claim to Tom Shaw's sneakers.

I, Audrey Fritz, leave all my admittance slips to Carol Ann Kelly.

I, Ethel Mosher, leave the India Ink to the future art editors of the yearbook.

I, Joseph Currie, leave all of my girl troubles to my brother, Tom.

I, Marylou Caten, leave a whistle to David Ellingwood so he can attract the teacher more easily.

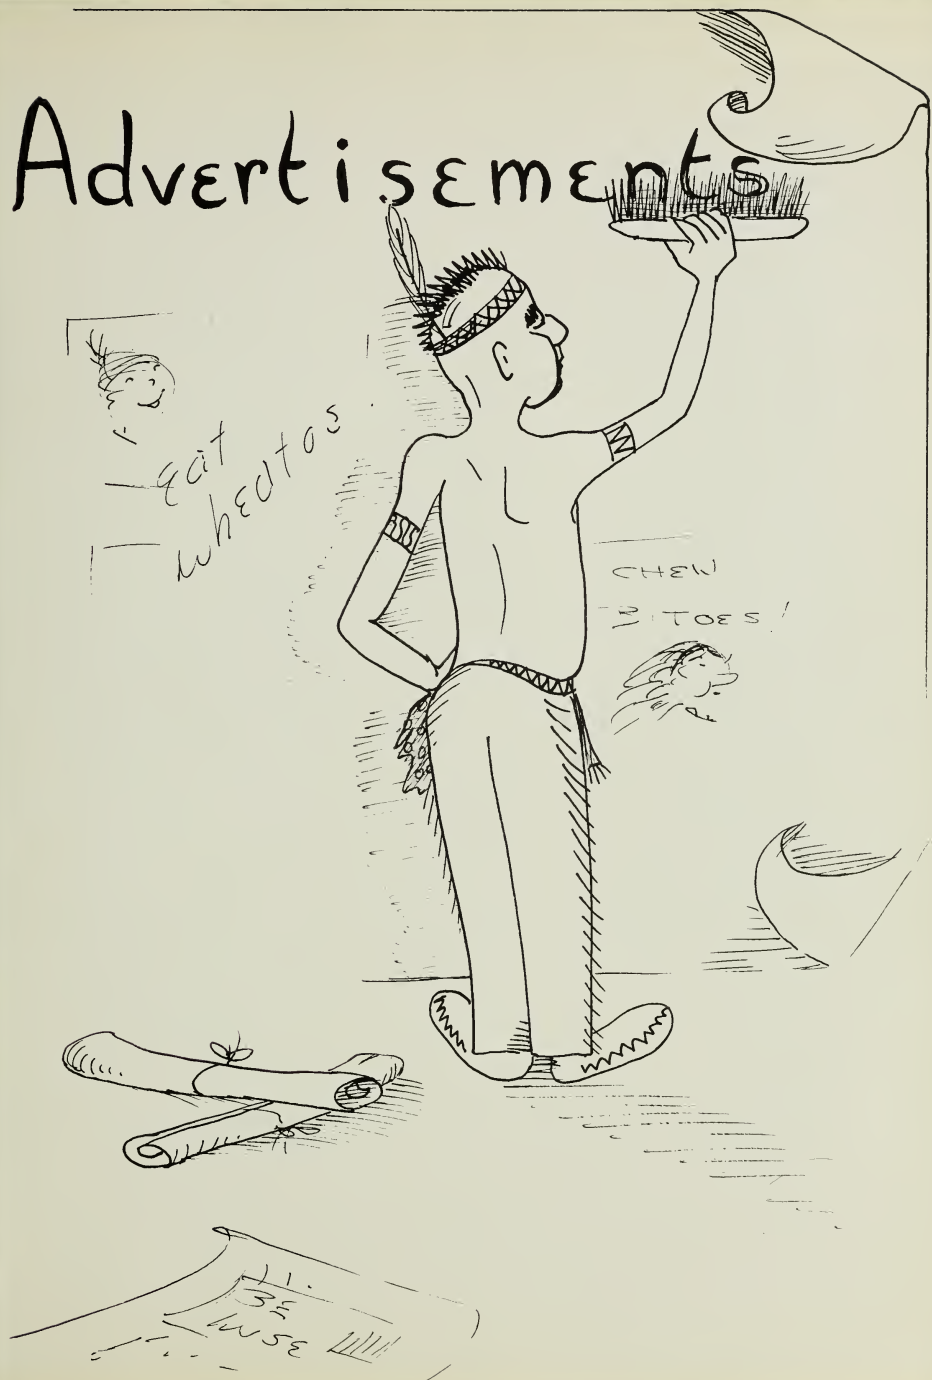

I, Thomas McLaughlin, leave just before "Judi."

I, Maryjane Casey, leave my place in Miss Hood's class to my sister, Sandra.

I, Janet MacDonald, leave to Ruth Hallenborg my ability to make public speeches.
